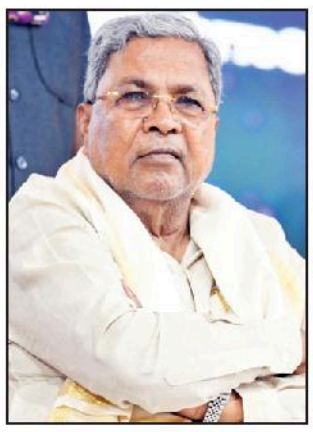
MUDA 50:50 site scam

Lokayukta finds no role of CM Siddaramaiah in the scam



Chief Minister Siddaramaiah

Lokayukta SP Udesh

> "According to the status report, serious procedural lapses were evident in the allocation of sites to Siddaramaiah's family. However, there is no indication of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's involvement, and the preliminary investigation found no documentary evidence linking him to any misconduct.
> SP Udesh informed IGP A. Subrahmanyeshwara Rao that he had written to the Chief Secretary three weeks ago seeking permission to interrogate senior officials, but no approval has been granted so far. He stated that once permission is received, these officials will be summoned to provide further details essential for the investigation."

Bengaluru, Nov. 16 (KMS&BCT)- The Lokayukta investigation into the allocation of 14 sites by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife B.M. Parvathi has reached a decisive phase with the investigators submitting the preliminary status report to the higher officers.

The status report has revealed significant lapses by officials of MUDA in the allocation of 14 sites. Acting on orders from the Special Court for Elected Representatives, Mysuru Lokayukta SP T.J. Udesh has been conducting an investigation into the allocation of these sites under the 50:50 ratio scheme and has submitted an interim report to the Lokayukta Central Office in Bengaluru.

The investigation found that the 14 sites were allocated to Parvathi in Vijayanagar's Third and Fourth Stages in exchange for her 3.16-acre land at Survey Number 464, Kesare, which was gifted to her by her brother B.M. Mallikarjunaswamy. Mallikarjunaswamy had purchased the land from J. Devaraju.

Lokayukta SP Udesh recently met Lokayukta Inspector General of Police (IGP) A. Subrahmanyeshwara Rao to present the investigation process, phases, findings and the documents gathered thus far.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

LOGGING OUT IS BENEFICIAL IN PERSONAL CONFLICT: Are you one of those who suffers disrespect, expletives and hate via phone messages and social media posts? The digital world offers a solution to avoid this situation: Just block them. Block that person from your social media platforms and from your phone messaging and even calls, if you so wish. And it follows, block that person from your life, if that is possible. You get instant relief. Like an instant painkiller pill. This is of course not an ideal situation, nor is it a spiritual solution. But for the sake of preserving one's sanity and balance, for self-preservation, one may have to take recourse to this drastic action.

In a way, it is extending Mari Kondo's declutter mantra in the material world, to the emotional and perhaps even spiritual world. KonMari method is meant to help you tidy your physical spaces — get rid of stuff that no longer brings joy; impediments that cause inconvenience. You will thereby get rid of whatever troubles you and retain only what you really need and which add value to your life. Consequently, your mind, too, feels decluttered, as you do not have to ponder over all the unwanted stuff messing up your space.

Then why put up with those who mess up your mind and heart? You can gracefully say goodbye to them — whether acquaintance, colleague, friend or relative — and clear your mind and heart, making room for happy people who will make you feel joyful and free. No more agonising over nasty remarks and complaints, no more angst over ingrate behaviour. To do such a thing requires a great resolve and detachment, no doubt, although some may point out that to rise above and beyond these situations, one really needs to find less drastic ways of conflict resolution.

Peaceful and happy conflict resolutions cannot be one-sided; both parties involved have to meet halfway and make those reparations, adjustments and acknowledgements necessary to mend fences and begin a fairly decent relationship. Since most times this is not doable, the way out is to exit peacefully.

Even if it is one person who exits, peace does prevail, as there is no further scope for altercations and hurt. Why hang on to those who cause you pain and suffering when you have the option to instead, fill your heart and mind with those who bring you kindness, love and joy? Conversely, you could be accused of being insensitive to the pain and suffering that the so-called perpetrator is going through, which is what sparked the negative behaviours and actions in the first place. There is no need to feel guilt here, because you would know for sure if there is something you can do to make that person feel better and mend their ways. It is only when it becomes clear that there is no scope for rapprochement, that you need to look at the option of staying away from the one who causes you pain... —Narayani Ganesh in The Times of India

Artist cuts longest strip from single A4 sheet

Bejing: Origami artist Pei Haozheng spent a whole year painstakingly cutting an A4 sheet of paper into a 108-metre-long strip to set a unique world record.

Pei, also known as Hotz Pei, is no stranger to Guinness world records. He once folded the most origami flowers made from a single sheet of paper(100), and then created the largest origami snail ever, but this year he embarked on his most challenging record attempt yet — cutting the longest continuous strip of paper from a single A4 sheet. Technically, it should have been a walk in the park for this master of paper art, as the length to beat was a modest 2.5 metres, but he challenged himself to cut the longest strip possible, so he spent about a year experimenting with different types of paper, cutting techniques and instruments. In the end, he managed to cut a thin, continuous strip 108.15 metres in length.

Woman spends 27 years to track down brother's killer

Shangai: A 47-year-old woman named Li Haiyu, who spent most of her life searching for her young brother's cruel killer recently reached her goal, putting her target in prison after nearly three decades.

According to reports, Li Haiyu started searching for her younger brother in 1997. She knew he had been abducted and traveled to the provinces of Yunnan, Sichuan, Guizhou and Guangxi to find him, facing all sorts of challenges. The arrest was inducted in 2020, but a Court ruled that there wasn't enough evidence to convict the suspect. In November of 2022, the Procuratorate overruled the previous decision and in September of this year, Li Huanping's killer was once again brought before a judge.

The killer, identified as Yi Mouqing, admitted to luring his rival's son with apples on that fateful day in 1992.

VOICE OF THE READER

1965 Indo-Pak War and Mysore royal family

Sir,

It was heartening to see the surviving members of the 1971 Indo-Pak War visit Mysuru (Star of Mysore dated Nov. 15). In this regard, I would like to bring to the readers a proud part played by a member of the Mysore royal family in the 1965 Indo-Pak War.

The two intense tank battles of this war were fought at Phillora (Punjab, Pakistan) by Hodson's Horse (4 Horse) and Poona Horse (17 Horse) and at Asal Uttar (Punjab, India) fought by 3 Cavalry, 8 Cavalry, Deccan Horse (9 Horse) and Scinde Horse (14 Horse), debilitated Pakistan's armour and demoralised their soldiers.

Pakistani tank crews began to avoid engaging Indian armoured units and even abandoned many of their fully functional tanks which were captured intact. Many tank crews, hiding after abandoning their tanks, were also captured.

The 'Battle of Phillora' began on Sept. 10 when the Indian 1st Armoured Division, with four armoured regiments and supporting forces under command, attacked positions in the Sialkot sector held by the Pakistani 6th Armoured Division.

After three days, the Pakistanis withdrew with the loss of 66 tanks. The Indians admitted to the loss of 6 Centurions.

At first light on Sept. 11, in the wake of an intense artillery bombardment, C Squadron started its advance as planned. Within minutes the enemy artillery opened up and troops were also subjected to enemy air attack.

The Squadron Commander, Major Desaraj Urs, was hit by shrapnel in the eye, but he refused to be evacuated and gallantly led his squadron till Rurki Kalan was captured. He was evacuated thereafter. He lost his eye though.

Major C. Desaraj Urs was the grandson of Maharajakumari Smt. Krishnajammanni (P.K. Sanitorium was named after her and she was the second daughter of Maharaja Chamarajendra Wadiyar and Maharani Vani Vilas Sannidhana) and Colonel Jagirdar Desaraj Urs, CIE, MVO (Chief Commandant of Mysore State Forces and fought in many wars).

They owned the Karanji Mansion in Mysore and Maj C. Desaraj Urs sold it in 1965 to the Department of Posts and currently houses the Department's Postal Training Institute. He is survived by his wife Rajakumari Chinnamamba Devi and two daughters.

Long live their memory and their immortal contributions.

Echo of Waqf Board notices across Karnataka

BJP forms three teams for awareness rallies, protests

"Namma Bhoomi-Namma Hakku" campaign to cover districts from Bidar to Chamarajanagar

Bengaluru, Nov.16 (KMS&DM)- Despite ongoing dissidence within the State BJP, which continues even after intervention from party leadership, the party has launched a massive campaign with the slogan "Namma Bhoomi-Namma Hakku" across the State, in response to Waqf Board notices to farmers claiming ownership of farmlands, educational institutions and private lands.

Speaking to the press in Bengaluru yesterday, State BJP President B.Y. Vijayendra outlined the two-phase campaign against the Waqf Board notices, which will involve large rallies.

He emphasised that the decision to launch the campaign was made in consultation with the BJP High Command. Vijayendra also announced the formation of three teams tasked with carrying out the campaign.

In response to a question about rebel leader Basanagouda Patil Yatnal's parallel campaign, Vijayendra stated that there was no issue with a separate campaign for farmers' rights, asserting that the fight should be unified. He also criticised the Congress Government for its inability to address the Waqf Board issue. The three teams formed for the campaign are:

Team-1

B.Y. Vijayendra, Pralhad Joshi, Jagadish Shettar, Govind Karjol, Bhagavanth Khuba, Dr. C.N. Ashwathnarayan, Murugesh Nirani, Ramesh Jarkiholi, B. This team will cover the districts of Chamarajanagar, Mysuru, Mandya, Hassan, Kodagu, Dakshina Kannada, Udupi, Chikkamagalur, Shivamogga and Uttara Kannada.

Withdraw all Waqf Board notices, urge Mysuru Advocates

Mysuru, Nov. 16 (PM&DM)- The Mysore Bar Association has strongly condemned the Waqf Board's notices claiming that farmlands belong to it, urging the State Government to intervene and direct the immediate withdrawal of the notices.

During an extensive meeting at the District Courts Complex, members of the Association discussed the implications of the notices, which they believe threaten the rights of farmers who have been cultivating their lands for decades.

The Association called for the Government's prompt action to protect the interests of these farmers. Additionally, the meeting resolved to hold seminars aimed at raising public awareness on the issue.

The meeting was attended by several prominent legal figures, including Karnataka Bar Council member B.R. Chandramouli, Senior Advocate R.D. Kumar, former Bar Association Secretary B. Shivanna, and advocates Pradeep, M. Basavaraj, K.H. Ramesh, Krishna, Andani, S. Lokesh, Palahalli Nagendra, T.P. Dharmendra, R. Somashekar, M.D. Kumar, Puttaswamy, Girish, Mallikarjunaswamy, Gokul Govardhan, Aradhya and D. Manjunath.

From Nov. 25, rebels to take out Bidar-Chamarajanagar rally

'War room' formed for affected farmers to file grievances; WhatsApp number 90356-75734

Mysuru, Nov. 16 (SBD&DM)- On the day State BJP Chief B.Y. Vijayendra announced the formation of three teams to tour the State regarding the Waqf Board's notices to farmers, with one team including his name, rebel BJP leader and senior MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal declared that his faction would organise a month-long awareness rally from Bidar to Chamarajanagar, running from Nov. 25 to Dec. 25, to address the Waqf Board issue.

Speaking to reporters after visiting the Chamundi Hill Temple to seek the blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari yesterday, Yatnal condemned the Waqf Board for claiming prime lands, including those of temples, tourist spots, commercial spaces, and even Vidhana Soudha as belonging to the Board.

He highlighted that the Waqf Board's actions have raised alarm among farmers, prompting his decision to lead the 'Bidar-Chamarajanagar' rally to raise awareness and mobilize support for the farming community.

Exclusive war room

Yatnal emphasised that the rally would not only aim to create awareness but also seek a lasting solution to the issue by drawing the attention of both the State and Central Governments. He announced the establishment of a 'war room' for affected farmers to file their grievances, with a dedicated WhatsApp number — 90356-75734 — for the public to participate and provide relevant information.

Responding to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's statement that the people of the State would not remain silent if anyone "touched" him, Yatnal suggested that the CM's remarks were indirectly targeting his Deputy D.K. Shivakumar, who is vying for the CM's position and plotting to oust Siddaramaiah.

On Siddaramaiah's claim that the Opposition BJP was offering Rs. 50 crore to each of about 50 ruling Congress MLAs to destabilize his government, Yatnal challenged the CM to substantiate the allegations with documents and evidence.

Former Ministers Ramesh Jarkiholi, Kumar Bangarappa, and other leaders accompanied Yatnal during the press interaction.

Special food check drive at PG accommodations in city

Mysuru, Nov. 16 (BLU&BS)- The Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) launched a special drive to inspect the quality of food served at Paying Guest (PG) accommodations in the city yesterday.

This inspection comes in response to growing concerns over the food quality provided to college students and office workers, many of whom rely on PGs due to the difficulty and expense of cooking for themselves or renting separate accommodations.

PG accommodations are popular for offering combined food and lodging services at a relatively affordable cost. The city hosts several hundred PG facilities, accommodating thousands of residents.

However, recent complaints have highlighted substandard food quality in many PGs across the State, including cases of food poisoning in Bengaluru's PG facilities.

To address these concerns, Commissioner of Food Safety and Standards Department K. Srinivas directed the launch of a special inspection drive.

A dedicated three-member team from the Food Safety Department has been assigned to conduct these inspections. The team's evaluation will cover multiple parameters, including the quality of ingredients used, with food samples collected and sent for laboratory analysis.

Additionally, the team will seek feedback from PG residents to gain insights into their experiences.

The inspection report is expected to be submitted to the Food Safety Commissioner within a month. Should any violations or discrepancies be identified, the Department is prepared to implement corrective measures outlined in its guidelines.

Daily inspections of Indira Canteens

FSSAI officials are also conducting daily inspections of Indira Canteens to assess food quality and hygiene standards.

The team has already visited several canteens, collecting food samples for laboratory testing and sending daily reports to the central office in Bengaluru. Inspections of additional canteens are ongoing, with the final report pending.

Golgappa deemed safe

The FSSAI has also investigated the quality of golgappa sold by chaat vendors. Concerns had been raised following complaints that additives like harpic and urea were being used to enhance taste, along with sub-standard edible oil.

The Department's report confirmed that the golgappa sold by vendors, many of whom hail from Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and other States, is of acceptable quality, with no harmful additives detected.

MUDA official faces probe over forgery, travel abroad

Foreign tour without Government approval lands Second Division Assistant Nandish in soup

Mysuru, Nov. 16 (RK&BCT)- Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) officers and staff, previously involved in the illegal approval of land allotments under various schemes, are now facing further trouble with another employee under scrutiny.

Nandish, a Second Division Assistant (SDA) at MUDA, is facing serious allegations of travelling abroad without prior Government approval and being involved in a forgery case using fake signatures.

M.K. Yashwanthkumar, a resident of 7th Main, 2nd Cross, H Block, Ramakrishnanagar in Mysuru, has filed a written complaint with the Urban Development Department and the Directorate of Town and Country Planning, Bengaluru, accusing Nandish of involvement in previous cases of forging signatures on bank challans and travelling abroad without the Government's prior approval.

After reviewing the complaint, officials at the Directorate and the Urban Development Department have written to the MUDA Commissioner, directing that all aspects of the allegations made by Yashwanthkumar be thoroughly investigated as per the service rules.

They have instructed that a detailed report, including a clear opinion and recommended actions to be taken against Nandish, if found guilty, be submitted within 15 days.

Kingpin's case status

In a related case, B.K. Kumar, who had been working simultaneously at both MUDA and the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) while drawing salaries from both institutions, was exposed as the kingpin in an illegal land allotment scandal, approving sites at a 50:50 ratio.

As a result, MCC Commissioner Ashaad-Ur-Rehman Shariff dismissed him from service and instructed Ashwin Kumar, Assistant Executive Engineer of Vani Vilas Water Works, to file a criminal case against him.

Following these instructions, Ashwin Kumar proceeded to file a complaint at the V.V. Puram Police Station, under the jurisdiction of Vani Vilas Water Works.

However, since the issue involves service regulations, Inspector Vivekananda stated that a legal opinion would be sought to determine which institution (MUDA or MCC) should be considered for action regarding B.K. Kumar's service before the complaint is officially registered.

Two Ministers to face ED in MUDA site scam?

Bengaluru, Nov. 16 (KMS& BCT)- The Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) site allotment scam is now likely to embroil two Karnataka Ministers.

As the Enforcement Directorate (ED) intensifies its investigation against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah as MUDA has granted 14 sites to his wife B.M. Parvathi, sources reveal that officials have named two Ministers in the scandal. The ED has questioned former MUDA employees as part of the inquiry.

During the illegal allotment of sites at a 50:50 ratio, it is believed that the two Ministers had a significant influence. These Ministers have been named in explosive statements from MUDA officials, which have now led the ED to strengthen its document review process.

If corroborating evidence is found during the investigation, the ED may call the two Ministers for questioning. As the MUDA investigation escalates, CM Siddaramaiah is reportedly holding discussions with his legal team in Delhi to prepare for future legal battles.

Access to private land in Nugu Wildlife Sanctuary

Minister George's son moves HC against Forest Department

Bengaluru, Nov. 16 (Agencies)- The Karnataka High Court on Friday issued a notice to the State Government and the Forest Department in connection with a petition filed by Rana George, son of Energy Minister K.J. George, seeking unrestricted access to his private land in Shambugowdanahalli and Lakkasoge villages, located within the Nugu Wildlife Sanctuary in H.D. Kote taluk.

Rana George

A Single-Judge Bench led by Justice Hemanth Chandangoudar heard the petition filed by Rana George, requesting the Court to quash the order issued by the Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (PCCF) on Mar. 1, which barred the use of the road passing through the sanctuary.

The Court issued notices to the State Government, Forest Department, PCCF, Assistant Conservator of Forests, Hediyala sub-division and adjourned the hearing to Nov. 29.

The petition sought directions to the forest authorities to allow unrestricted access to the petitioner's property via the forest road within the Nugu Wildlife Sanctuary.

In his petition, Rana George claimed to be the absolute owner of the properties in Shambugowdanahalli and Lakkasoge villages, asserting that the only access to his property was through the forest road.

Property for personal enjoyment

Rana George argued that Section 27 (1)(c) of Wildlife Protection Act provides an exemption for entry to the sanctuary for individuals who own immovable property within its limits. The petitioner maintained that the property is used solely for personal enjoyment and not for commercial purposes.

He alleged that he made several requests to the authorities for permission to access his property under the provisions of the Wildlife Protection Act but was repeatedly harassed by Forest Department officials during attempts to enter.

He also claimed that the authorities have imposed a restriction on access to his property between 6 pm and 6 am daily, citing ecological concerns.

The petitioner contended that this restriction is problematic, as he would have nowhere to go if he reached his property after the imposed curfew. He argued that these restrictions infringe upon his fundamental rights under Article 19(1)(d) and his Right to Life and Personal Liberty under Article 21 of the Indian Constitution.

Lokayukta finds no role of CM

Procedural lapses

According to the status report, serious procedural lapses were evident in the allocation of sites to Siddaramaiah's family. However, there is no indication of CM Siddaramaiah's involvement and the preliminary investigation found no documentary evidence linking him to any misconduct.

The investigation has been divided into three phases, with two already completed. SP Udesh has sought guidance from senior officials for the next steps in the third phase, according to high-level sources.

The report also highlights that former MUDA Commissioners Dr. D.B. Natesh and G.T. Dinesh Kumar have not yet been questioned. Documents and information relevant to the case have been collected from both official and non-official sources.

Awaiting the Chief Secretary's nod

SP Udesh informed the Lokyukta IGP that he had written to the Chief Secretary three weeks ago seeking permission to interrogate senior officials, but no approval has been granted so far. He stated that once permission is received, these officials will be summoned to provide further details essential for investigation.

The report detailed that the disputed land was initially denotified and transferred from Devaraju's father to Devaraju's brother and subsequently to Devaraju.

The land was then sold to B.M. Mallikarjunaswamy, who applied to Government for land conversion. The investigation revealed that MUDA and Dy. Commissioner's Office officials failed to conduct proper verifications before approving the land conversion, which lacked thorough checks and physical inspection.

No role of CM's family

The status report asserts that while the Chief Minister's family did not play a role in the conversion, MUDA officials made evident mistakes in allotting the 14 sites in a prime location under the 50:50 scheme.

To ascertain if the CM's family exerted any undue influence in obtaining sites, further inquiry from senior officials is required, though no evidence of their involvement has surfaced thus far.

Preparations are underway to question Dr. Natesh and Dinesh Kumar regarding their actions during the allocation process. The Lokayukta SP informed the Lokayukta IGP that pending the Chief Secretary's approval, these officials would be interrogated and a comprehensive report would be submitted to the Court by Dec. 24.

Woman passes away after giving birth to healthy twins

Hemavathi

Mysuru, Nov. 16 (SBD&BCT)- A heart-wrenching incident occurred in Mysuru where a woman passed away after giving birth to twins. Hemavathi (35), wife of Shivarudrappa from Ahalya village in Nanjangud, gave birth to a boy and a girl at a private hospital in Mysuru on Friday and then breathed her last.

Hemavathi, who was admitted to the hospital due to labour pain, underwent a Caesarean section. However, fate did not grant her the opportunity to cradle her newborns and experience the joy of motherhood. Reports indicate that the babies are currently healthy.

The news of Hemavathi's death after childbirth struck her family and relatives like a thunderbolt, leaving them devastated. They tearfully imagined how lovingly she would have cared for her precious children had she survived. The mourning family, including her husband Shivarudrappa, father-in-law Shivappa, father Eshwarappa from Hinkal, and her brothers, were inconsolable. Hemavathi's last rites are scheduled to be conducted today in Ahalya village.

Minor mother among three arrested for killing a baby

Madikeri, Nov. 16 (PS&BCT)- Madikeri Police have arrested three individuals in connection with a sensational infanticide case in Kodagu district, where a minor girl gave birth to a child. The arrested include the mother, grandmother and grandfather of the deceased newborn.

On Oct. 17, a 14-year-old girl secretly gave birth within the jurisdiction of Napoklu Police Station in Madikeri. However, 4 days after the delivery, the newborn went missing from the hospital.

A week later, the baby's body was discovered in a pit. Initially, it was suspected that the mother might have been involved in the disappearance. But when it appeared that the grandmother might have killed and buried the baby, she claimed the child was never born.

As the investigation progressed, the body's discovery in the pit led to a murder case being filed against the mother, grandmother and grandfather.

The girl had accused a 13-year-old boy of causing her pregnancy, prompting an FIR against him. However, the boy's parents demanded a DNA test for the baby. During the investigation, Police began to suspect that the girl's parents might have been involved in the baby's death, leading to their arrest and further questioning.

'Create awareness on Consumer Protection Act among students'

Members of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) holding discussions on creating awareness about Consumer Protection Act among students during an interaction programme with Government officials in city recently. Picture right shows students displaying posters to create awareness on Consumer Protection Act in front of MGP Office at Yadavagiri. Also seen are MGP Founder-President Bhamy V. Shenoy and MGP Members.

Mysuru, Nov. 16 (SPN&VNS)- There is a need to create awareness on National Consumer Day and Consumer Protection Act of 1986 among the student community to protect them from being cheated by the MNC companies which are selling various products online including toys among others, opined Members of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) during an interaction programme with Department of School Education and Literacy Assistant Director K. Suresh and retired Education Officer Srikanth at MGP Office in Yadavagiri here recently.

The members also expressed their concerns over Judiciary and Executive failing to create awareness among the students.

Speaking on the occasion, Srikanth noted that it was disheartening to see children falling prey to various online frauds including online shopping and gaming.

One of the MGP Members, who spoke on the occasion, requested the officials to start Consumer Clubs in schools and colleges to protect students from falling prey to online frauds. "Though there are directions for Government and the Department to encourage Consumer Movement and create awareness on National Consumer Rights at school and college level, no action has been initiated till date, he said.

MGP Founder-President Bhamy V. Shenoy said that the Department of School Education and Literacy had established Consumer Clubs in schools only for documentation purpose as no activities was being carried out except for observing Consumer Day once in a year.

In his reaction, Assistant Director K. Suresh said there were about 233 Government High Schools in the district out of which only a handful of them have Consumer Clubs where programmes on creating consumer awareness along with observing National Consumer Day on Dec. 24 are held.

"With increase in online frauds and children being targeted, there is need to hold awareness programmes at the school-level," he said and added that the matter will be discussed with DDPI.

Students of JSS Law College, who were present at the meeting, extended their helping hands to start Consumer Clubs at Government High Schools, for which Suresh said that a decision in this regard would be taken after discussing with senior officials.

Meanwhile, Suresh was also appraised by Dr. Nataraj, a retired official, about a private school constructing building violating Government rules under Block Education Officer (North) limits. He also alleged that despite filing several complaints, no action was initiated by the Dept. against the school management.

Suggestions: • Starting Consumer Clubs in schools and colleges. • Create awareness on online frauds. • Training students and teachers on Consumer Protection Act. • Organising demonstrations at Government Schools to create awareness on Consumer Club and Consumer Protection Act. • Mandatory celebration of National Consumer Day on Dec. 24 at schools and colleges.

MUDA 50:50 site scam

Farmer leader warns of aggressive protest if land-loser ryots were troubled

State Sugarcane Growers Association President Kurubur Shanthakumar making a point during a press meet at Jaladarshini Guest House in city recently as others look on.

Mysuru, Nov. 16 (BLU&BS)- State Sugarcane Growers Association President Kurubur Shanthakumar has warned of aggressive protest, if the farmers who lost their lands under 50:50 scheme for Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) were troubled, due to the alleged irregularities related to the scheme.

He was addressing media persons at Jaladarshini Guest House in city recently. Shanthakumar said, "We had staged a protest to alert MUDA, when the case of missing files had emerged. But the moot point was blatantly ignored, as a result of which, series of irregularities are tumbling out from the casket of MUDA."

"MUDA has acquired the farm lands to develop residential layouts under 50:50 scheme. But, we won't remain a mute spectator, if the farmers were targeted," he reiterated.

Shanthakumar announced that, as part of World Farmers Day, it has been decided to organise National Farmers Convention in city, with hundreds of farmers from various parts of the State expected to converge on the meet.

"Previous year, a bag of ginger was sold at Rs. 5,000 which has fallen to Rs. 1,600. The Government should announce Minimum Support Price (MSP) to bail out farmers from distress during such situations," he said.

In this wake, Samyukta Kisan Morcha has planned a Nationwide Farmers Movement to draw the attention of the Government during the Parliament Session on Nov. 25, said Shanthakumar.

Farmer leaders Attahalli Devaraj, Baradanapura Nagaraj, Kiragasur Shankar, Neelakantappa, Venkatesh, Suri and Umesh were present at the press meet.

November Concerts at Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha on Nov. 17, 22 & 23

Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha, JLB Road, Mysuru, brings three cultural programmes to the art-lovers this November — on Nov. 17, 22 and 23.

On Nov. 17, Dr. Vasundhara Doraswamy will present a dance ballet 'Kittur Rani Chennamma' at 6 pm.

Dr. Vasundhara Doraswamy: Dancer, choreographer, Guru and Founder of Vasundhara Performing Arts Centre (VPAC), Dr. Vasundhara has developed her own sub domain in Vasundhara style. In 1987, Vasundhara earned a Ph.D for her study on the correlation between Yoga and Bharatanatyam. Her 'Ekavyakti'(single) productions like Ambe, Dakshayini, Ganga Lahari, Panchali and Kshhatra Draupadi have won acclaim. She has made it a mission to spotlight powerful women personalities from our mythology and history through her art. Dr. Vasundhara is a recipient of several awards and titles including Rajyotsava award, Shantala Natya Shri award, Chandana award by Doordarshan, Artiste of the Millennium award - USA and the Central Sangeet Natak Akademi award for 2019.

In a performance that promises to be both stunning and emotionally resonant, Vasundhara will bring to life the story of Kittur Rani Chennamma, the fearless queen who defied the British Empire. It is a celebration of India's rich cultural heritage and the enduring spirit of its women. Kittur Rani Chennmma is celebrated for her valiant revolt against the British Government's Doctrine of Lapse', a policy that sought to annex the territories of native rulers who had no biological heirs. Her defiance in 1824 remains a symbol of resistance and resilience, qualities that Dr. Vasundhara will embody in her performance. The performance will be an artistic tapestry of intricate Bharatanatyam movements and expressive storytelling, weaving the life and legacy of Rani Chennamma.
